THEY PRAISE THE POULTRY FOOD.

A proper appreciation on the part of his customers of the true merits of any article of merchandise sold by a merchant is always a source of gratification to him, not only because of the pleasure there is in knowing that he is able to furnish what the people want, but because it ensures a large and increasing trade in that line. The Seaver store at North Troy, Vt., are evidently fortunate enough to have anticipated the wants of the poultry keepers in their vicinity. Read the following letter from them: "We have sold your Page's Perfected Poultry Food ever since it was first put on the market, and we have found an ever increasing sale for it. Do not think we ever lost a customer, after getting him to give it a trial. We consider a dealer very fortunate that secures its sale in his territory. Poultrymen in this vicinity cannot say enough in its praise. You may ship me one barrel Oct. 1, and one barrel Jan. 1, and we will order more later on.
If you want to know more about this food and the best ways of using it, write to C. S. Page, Hyde Park, Vt., for his booklet, "Profitable Poultry." It will be sent free, postpaid, to anyone mentioning this paper.

SAYS BEWARE OF BACKACHE

Prescription to Prevent Serious Kidney Disease.

MANY WAIT TOO LONG.

Lame Back and Urinary Trouble Are the Danger Signals—What to Do—Mix It at Home—Splendid for Rheumatism—Relief Is Prompt.

More people succumb each year to some form of kidney trouble than to any other cause. The slightest form of kidney derangement often develops into Bright's kidney disease, diabetes or dropsy. When either of these diseases are suspected, the sufferer should at once seek the best medical attention possible. Consult only a good, first-class physician.
There are many of the lesser symptoms of kidney trouble which can be treated at home, is stated by a well known authority. For some of these, such as backache, pain in the region of the kidneys, weak bladder, frequency (especially at night), painful, scalding and other urinary troubles, try the following simple home remedy: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. These simple ingredients are harmless and can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy and anyone can mix them by shaking well in a bottle. The dose for adults is a teaspoonful after each meal and again at bedtime.
There is no more effective remedy known to relieve all forms of rheumatism, because it acts directly upon the kidneys and blood. It cleans the clogged up pores in the kidneys so they can filter and strain from the blood the poisonous uric acid and waste matter which, if not eliminated remain in the blood, decompose and settle about the joints and muscular tissues, causing the untold suffering and deformity of rheumatism.
Backache is nature's signal notifying the sufferer that the kidneys are not acting properly. "Take care of your kidneys," is now the physician's advice to his patients.

POPULAR YOUNG MAN.

Royal B. Townsend died at Chelsea Yesterday Morning.
Chelsea, Jan. 5.—Again a deep gloom has been cast over the town, especially the village in the death of Royal B. Townsend, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Townsend which occurred at two o'clock Monday morning after an illness of two weeks which had baffled his physicians. Mr. Townsend came home from Kimball Union academy two weeks ago to spend the holidays and contracted a severe cold which developed pneumonia and being run down and tired out from his school work, he was not strong enough to throw off the disease. Royal was an especially bright and promising young man, of a genial disposition and exemplary habits, a favorite among his acquaintances and associates, and a young man in whom not only his parents, but the townspeople were justly proud. His age was 17 years, 10 months and 24 days. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon from the home of his parents, at 2 o'clock.

Mentioned to Bishop.

The Vergennes Enterprise says that "Prominent among the names of eminent priests that have been spoken of in connection with a choice of a successor to the late Bishop Michael, are those of Rev. D. J. O'Sullivan of St. Albans and Father Shannon of Middlebury. Both have many qualities of heart and mind that would make them very acceptable to the people of this diocese."

All this is true, and as much can also be said for the Rev. P. J. Barrett, rector of the cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Burlington, who has a host of friends outside of his church in this community who would rejoice to see him thus honored, although he is understood to prefer his present work to an elevation to the bishopric.
As a matter of fact, however, this is one of the cases where newspaper "mentioning" will have nothing whatever to do with the outcome of the situation. The choice of a successor to the late Bishop Michael was unquestionably settled when the choice of a bishop coadjutor was agreed upon, or as good as made previous to his demise, and it remains simply to announce that choice.—Burlington Free Press.

James J. Hill's Idea of a Farm.

There will be much discussion of farming for the next few months from many angles, one among them being the most useful size of farms. We do not wish to be one sided and shall always state fairly the large farm or combination arguments, but it seems to us that farming in this respect is the exception among businesses. Economy in the cost of supervision is the only reason for the expansion of the unit in any business, and land is more productive under the small farm system. Even if larger farm units are possible they are not desirable. We do not want the European regime of an overlord with tenant farmers. We want the greatest number of independent little farmers, who hardly need even one farm hand. James J. Hill has more sense than nearly all of the professors, and he delivered an opinion two years ago to the effect that the individual farmer must have fewer acres and more hoes.

ARE YOU WRETCHED IN BAD WEATHER?

Keeping the Kidneys Well Has Kept Many Barre People Well.

Many Barre people find that bad weather brings on a dull pain in the back, or rheumatic aching, neuralgia, nervousness, irritability and weakness. If, when you get wet or take cold, it "settles on the kidneys," and there is a shivery, chilly sensation in the back, it shows kidney weakness, which is often the beginning of disease. Doan's Kidney Pills should be used persistently until the chilly feeling is gone, and the flow of urine is natural. Doan's Kidney Pills have saved Barre people much suffering.

W. W. McAuley, 157 Seminary street, Barre, Vt., says: "I took all kinds of medicine supposed to be good for kidney trouble, but did not find relief. The pain in my left kidney was severe. I could not stoop to pick up anything without having sharp twinges in the small of my back. I was very restless at night and arose in the morning feeling tired and miserable. Damp weather always made me worse and finally I became so bad, I could only walk a short distance. It was then I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from E. A. Drown's drug store. They helped me from the first, relieving the backache and strengthening my kidneys. I used in all three boxes and can honestly say that I have never taken a remedy that benefited me so greatly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McIlburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Plowing For Grape Leaf Hopper.

Plowing is sometimes done by California vineyardists during the winter season for the purpose of destroying the grape leaf hoppers. This is partly based upon the supposition that the eggs may be in the leaves or in the ground or that the adult hoppers are in some way killed in the operation. So far as having a direct effect in destroying the hoppers is concerned, plowing is of little avail. The only ones that will be killed are a few that may not be disturbed from their resting places among the leaves or otherwise accidentally buried by the plow. During the cold or rainy days there may be a few thus turned under, but ordinarily they are active enough to escape readily before the plow.

Plowing, however, may have an indirect effect on the hoppers by depriving them of food or of suitable sheltering places during unfavorable weather conditions, and if this practice is generally carried out in a neighborhood it will no doubt result in reducing the numbers somewhat. However, a field may be free from hoppers during the winter, but this is not necessarily an indication of freedom from spring infestation. The insects are more generally distributed in the winter season, but the bulk of them will usually be found in the vineyard or on the vegetation of the borders immediately surrounding it. They may come in, therefore, from vineyards closely adjoining, so that plowing a single vineyard may be of little help. When the plowing is done in a single vineyard or over a small area it is likely to result simply in driving them into other fields where there is a better food supply. Once in these other situations they may or may not come back into the vineyard where they were originally.
